EVANGELIZERS
(and whatever else is on Deacon Eric's mind)

I KNEW A SAINT

Wouldn't we all like to drop a line like this at a dinner party: "I knew a saint." While others might have bragged a bit about meeting a famous movie star or athlete, we can say "I knew a saint." (Ten years ago, I may have included politicians in the famous people category, but nowadays there aren't too many people bragging about knowing high-profile politicians - no offense to any current local politicians. I pray that your faith may guide you in your legislative decisions.)

The fact is that most of us know or knew a saint - we just don't know that we knew a saint because we don't know who's in heaven or who isn't for sure outside of those the Church has recognized during the canonization process. In our hearts, though, we know many people throughout our lives who have lived the life of a saint - people who obeyed the commandments and personified the beatitudes. People who we believe with our whole being are in heaven.

November is the month the Church sets aside for remembrance of those who have gone before us. Last week, the parish's Grief Ministry held a very poignant memorial service after the Saturday Vigil Mass remembering and honoring the 30+ people from the parish who have died since last November First. Monday, we held two All Saints Day Masses. Tuesday we held an All Souls Day Mass. I suppose it was only fitting that Fr. Mike officiated two funeral Masses this week, as the remembrance list for next November began.

The month of November in the Catholic Church reminds us that we are mortal - not in a morbid sense, but actually in a spiritual sense. It gives us an opportunity to remember the great saints of the church, but more importantly identify the qualities of sainthood - including those who've lived the simple faithful life most like ours. It's hard to relate to the St. Thomas Aquinases of the world, but we can remember our parents or spouses, for example, who lived well. Quite the opposite of being morbid, the month of November is about remembrance and hope.

We must take to heart the words of St. John in his first letter: "Beloved we are children now; what we shall be has not yet been revealed. We do know that when it is revealed we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is. Everyone who has this hope based on him makes himself pure."

Live the life of one you've known to have lived a faithful life. Perhaps 50 years from now, a grandchild may look at a picture of you and say: "I knew a saint."

Homebound Eucharistic Ministers

This is a reminder for all homebound Eucharistic Ministers, including those taking Jesus home to a loved one or neighbor. We have a sign-up sheet in the sacristy and everyone who takes a host from the tabernacle should record it on that sheet.

Also, especially for those unable to attend our recent EM training, here is a reminder on the proper procedure for homebound visits:

1. Always go directly to the location where you are going to distribute the host - no stopping for gas or a quick trip to the store.
2. Make your visit a mini-Communion Service, preferably with a penitential rite (i.e. Lord have mercy...), a couple prayers and maybe a short Gospel reading. (There are pamphlets available in the Church safe to use if you would like guidance.)
3. Make sure a clean cloth of some sort (i.e. purificator, cloth napkin...) is on the table before you set your pyx on it. A pyx with the Eucharist should never be set on a bare surface.
4. After you've distributed the host, purify your pyx so there are no particles left over. If you are staying or going home after this service you need to purify your pyx by putting a little bit of water in it, then drinking it. If you are returning the pyx to the sacristy you can follow that procedure or rinse the pyx out in the sacrarium (special sink in back of the sacristy.)
5. If you are using a pyx from the Church, please return it to the safe right away. You may purchase a personal pyx at any Catholic gift store or on-line. Please have it blessed by Fr. Mike or one of the deacons before using.

One final note - anyone who might be interested in being a Homebound EM, please contact the parish office.
