INTENTIONS, GOOD - RESULTS, NOT SO MUCH

The epic movie "Lawrence of Arabia" is a masterpiece, but it is almost four hours long. Until last night, that was too long to intrigue me enough to block out that amount of time to watch it - despite its record of hauling in seven Academy Awards out of 12 nominations in 1962. That includes Oscars for best movie and best actor.

It really is a fascinating film, though its panoramic camera shots are probably better appreciated on a movie theater screen than on my 42-inch TV. But for this column's purpose, the intrigue in the movie comes from the psychological change in the title character. T.E. Lawrence was a British intelligence officer in World War One who had a plan to unify the numerous independent Arab tribes in the Middle East. He hoped they would join the British in battle against the Turks, who were allied with Germany during the war.

Without getting into the weeds on the geopolitical landscape of the region at the time, this film is a good case study of how war, pride and double-crossing can take a person of high-morals and leave him a shell of himself. The movie leaves one wondering at the end, as my wife posed: "Is Lawrence a hero or not?"

At the beginning of the movie, Lawrence comes across as a confident military officer with a good sense of morality. He is shocked when his guide in the desert is killed for drinking from a well belonging to another tribe. As the movie goes on, he participates in the killing. He now almost relishes it because it feeds his ego and verifies that his plan was correct. He gains notoriety and promotions, but in the end his promises to the tribes go for naught, as political leaders divvy up the Middle East for themselves after the war.

Looking at the changes in Lawrence through the movie made me realize how easy it is for us to lose some sense of morality due to our environment. As Lawrence was worn down by the atrocities of war, we too can be worn down by this world in which we live. For example, immorality is not only accepted by society, it is promoted by the media and sanctioned by our courts.

It is up to us to be the voice of virtue - to take a stand on counter-cultural ideas ranging from hot button social issues like abortion to vulgar language in the office. Unlike Lawrence, we need to stand our moral ground as Christians, because: "If not us, then who?"

Dear Brother and Sister in Christ,

This life is a journey. It's a pilgrimage. A pilgrimage from God to God. We are each pilgrims on that narrow path. It's not an easy journey. We all know that. However, if we co-operate with God's grace we can make it and, even better, we can make it together.

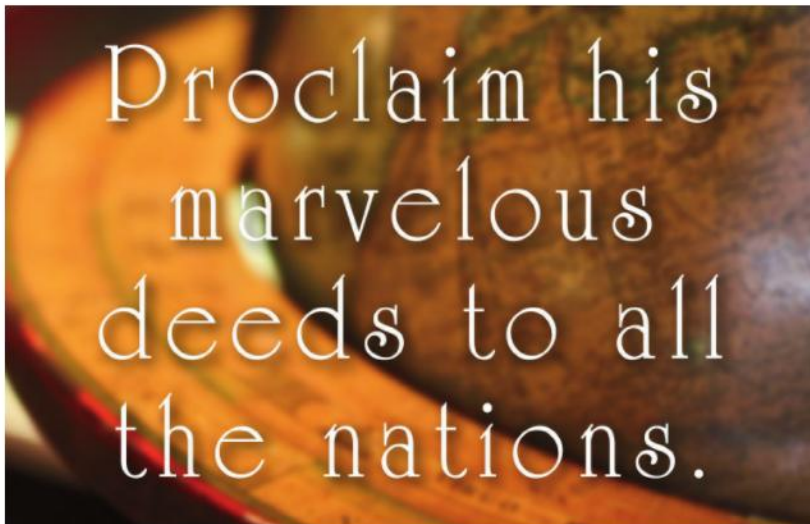

Who, though, can teach us the way? The answer, of course, is Jesus Christ. Indeed, in the Holy Gospels, Our Blessed Lord identifies himself as "the way". Meanwhile, the early Christians often referred to their new life as disciples of Jesus Christ as "the Way" (e.f., Acts 9:2). We too are his chosen. That is why I invite you to join me as Disciples Together on the Way.

Across the coming year, starting January 2022, we will then attempt to acquire a different good habit each week in order to help us develop four key areas of discipleship; prayer, catechesis, community and apostolate.

So, do you want to take up the Disciples Together on the Way challenge? If so, simply pick up your cellphone and text ONTHEWAY to 84576. or go to www.dioceseoflansing.org/on-the-way

Offered by the St. Joseph Prayer Tree and Path of Divine Hope Grief Ministry

The Path of Divine Hope Grief Ministry invites those who have experienced the passing of a loved one this past year to join us after the 5PM mass on January 29th as we hold a memorial reflection with Divine Mercy chaplet. A Call to Prayer for Life

Looking ahead to the anniversary of Roe v Wade and the Sanctity of Human Life Sunday, your prayers are needed for the Supreme Court Justices and the end to abortion. The Justices continue to consider the Dobbs v Jackson case that could overturn Roe v Wade. This is a time for prayers to storm Heaven for the end of abortion.

We will hold a special day of prayers on Friday January 21st with exposition of the Blessed Sacrament from 9:00am until 6:00 pm. There will be special prayers by the school children during the day, as well as time for private prayer. The rosary and Divine Mercy Chaplet will be recited during the final hour.

This is a time for action to show our legislators that abortion is not acceptable. There will be a program at the Michigan State Capitol steps on January 19th at 1:00 and then a march to the Justice Building. Please continue your prayers for an end to abortion whether you attend a public event or pray quietly at home. Prayers will save the lives of God's precious babies.
