MOMS, DADS & ORDINATIONS

Last week, Bishop Earl Boyea ordained two young men as priests and two others as transitional deacons—who, barring anything unforeseeable, will be ordained as priests next June. Once one goes through ordination, one can empathize with others going through this wonderful ceremony. The laying of hands of the bishop as he prays to the Holy Spirit for the ordination candidates is moving to observe—even more moving when reliving one's own experience of that moment.

I've said on more than one occasion that, when it comes down to ceremony, the Catholic Church does it right. The joy and love in St. Thomas Aquinas Church was palpable as the organ rang out and trumpets blared during the opening and closing songs, while hundreds of attendees joined the choir in full-throated songs of praise and worship of Our Lord. And the ordination ceremony itself is worthy of a dozen or more highly descriptive adjectives, but I think only one simple adjective is needed. An ordination ceremony is special. It is as simple as that—special.

Where I was sitting (to the right of the altar), I could see most of the candidates' parents; and I would take a glance whenever their son was spotlighted. To say their faces were beaming would be a disservice to them because their faces told a bigger story. Part of it certainly is parental pride of accomplishment—like that of a graduation or the community recognition of a child's achievement as in sports or music but this was much more. Their faces expressed the acknowledgement that their sons, after years of study and prayer, were becoming ordained ministers, committed to Christ. It was very heartwarming to see parents hand new vestments to pastors helping the young men with stoles and chasubles for the priests, dalmatics for the new deacons.

Though my parents were both called home to the Lord long before I was ordained, I did reflect on how they may have looked had they been able to be at my 2019 ordination. I could see my dad with a smile of deep satisfaction and eyes that said, "Well done son I knew you had it in you." An overall look of joyous expectation—the type you would expect from a father who experienced the Great Depression and World War Two. "Happy Father's Day, Dad."

And I believe my mother's look would have been similar to those I saw a week ago. An expression about people who aren't afraid to express their deepest emotions is that they "wear their hearts on their sleeves." However that translates to the expressions on these mothers' faces, that's what I saw and that's how my mother would have looked. Maybe it's a timeless reflection of the spiritual bond that can only exist between a mother and a son.

The newly ordained are probably still riding high on a spiritual wave, but will soon come down to the reality of their mission—to serve the body of Christ. May we all pray for them (Fr. Peter Ludwig, Fr. Tyler Arens, Deacon Corey Bilodeau, and Deacon Shea Kettner) as they settle in to their new parish assignments.

Fr. Mike's Vocation Story

I am from Flint, Michigan, and grew up in a Catholic home with two older brothers and a younger sister. After graduating from high school in 1984, I joined the Franciscan Friars (OFM).

I took my Simple Profession of Vows in 1989 and remained with the Franciscan community for seven years. During that time, I served at Holy Trinity Parish, Detroit (finishing my undergrad degree at Orchard Lake); Our Lady of Sorrows, Valparaiso Indiana (as a Franciscan Novitiate); Manhattan, New York (living at the Franciscan Motherhouse and working with Covenant House Ministries); Dunwoodie, New York (St. Joseph Seminary); and Cincinnati, Ohio (Mt. St. Mary Seminary). In 1996, midway through my first year in the seminary, I decided to return to Michigan and serve the people of the Diocese of Lansing as a diocesan priest.

On June 10, 1995, I was ordained to the priesthood as a diocesan priest for the Diocese of Lansing.

I served as an associate at St. Thomas Aquinas, East Lansing; St. Robert Bellarmine, Flushing; St. Patrick, Brighton; and Holy Family Parish in Grand Blanc. My first pastorate was at St. Joseph Parish in Adrian. In 2003, I became the pastor of St. Therese Parish, Lansing, also serving as the Director of the Office of Propagation of the Faith (Missions) for the Diocese. This is where I learned that my least favorite thing about ministry is the paperwork.

And then—10 years ago, June 2012—I became your pastor! My greatest joy is to be able to Celebrate the Eucharist with you.

If you are sensing a possible call to the priesthood, let's talk!

Renovation Prayer

St. Joseph, patron of craftsmen, through your intercession may the Holy Spirit guide all who work to renovate our worship space. May God provide them the grace to safely transform our historic faith home into a lasting, beautiful, and welcoming place of worship. St. Joseph, patron of families and our parish, be with us as we undertake this journey together. Amen

The Rosary is prayed Sunday morning 1/2 hour before Mass at the 8 a.m., 10 a.m., and Noon Masses

It is finally time for Vacation Bible School!

Please pray for all the Vacation Bible School campers this week that they may learn about their faith, grow closer to Jesus, and experience some faith filled fun with each other.

Thank you to all who donated items or monetary gifts to make this week a success. Your generosity and kindness was appreciated!
