St. John Paul II

In the United States, the Church has begun a three-year initiative, a National Eucharistic Revival, to help us to grown in our appreciation for, and faith in, the Holy Eucharist.

Will you consider during this time one of the following?

1. Add a Mass on a week day to your schedule.
2. Make a Holy Hour on First Friday, if you don't do so already.
3. Make a weekly visit to the Blessed Sacrament.
4. If you receive the Columbia magazine, read the June issue for other ways to be involved and to learn more about this initiative.

WE ARE ALL EVANGELIZERS

(and whatever else is on Deacon Eric's mind)

When the Supreme Court handed down its decision last week overturning Roe v Wade, my first instinct was to sit down immediately and write a "Hallelujah" column. Then I thought it might be better if I waited a couple days, let my exuberant emotions settle down, and watch the reaction.

The reaction from the radical wing of the pro-abortion crowd was sad but predictable—violence and threats, mostly against pregnancy centers. This certainly is not to say that all those who favor abortion are radicals. Most people on each side of the issue are not inclined to break the law or throw firebombs through windows.

The legal analysis from one point of view is simple: the majority of the Supreme Court Justices agreed that there is no right to abortion in the Constitution. And on this Fourth of July weekend, we see that the Constitution does still have validity almost 250 years after it was written. The Supreme Court was created to determine cases in which the plaintiff believes the Constitution was violated. If the Justices determine that a case does not meet the standard, then it's sent back to the states for a final determination. And that's what this Court did. It sent the issue back to each state. It did NOT make abortion illegal in this country.

Some states had trigger laws in which abortion will be banned immediately or in the near future. Nothing will change in states with abortion protection laws. In Michigan, we are in limbo, with a 1931 law designed to prohibit abortion unenforceable due to a recent injunction which has yet to argued in court. Perhaps more threatening is a petition drive to legalize abortions. It has only one week left to gather the legal amount of signatures. Please do NOT assist these petitioners by signing.

The title of today's column is "What's Left to Say?" The legal eagles will surely have plenty of words to say as the injunction is contested. But for the rest of us pro-lifers, the time for talk is over. It's time to do. We must discourage those we know from signing the petition. Many of us will have 4th of July party opportunities at which to do so. Then we must vote pro-life in August primaries and the November general election. If we continue to let others decide who our top elected officials will be by our inaction, then last week's Supreme Court ruling will have meant nothing in Michigan. Then the only thing left to say will be: "We got what we deserved."

Renovation Reflections - Exodus

We have reached an exciting milestone in the renovation of the worship space of St. Joseph church! Now the expert tradespeople and artisans take over.

The committee for the renovation of the worship space of St. Joseph church began meeting in the spring of 2018. Over the four years many, many details were researched, discussed, priced out, and decided. In some cases, decisions were revisited when material availability or increased costs became an issue. In addition to our design firm, various experts were consulted: interior designers, experts on various materials, diocesan staff, and artists. Your feedback was incorporated in the fall of 2019.

This lengthy process is very much reminiscent of the Book of Exodus. From chapter 25 through 30, God describes to Moses the adornment of the Ark of the Covenant, Meeting Tent, and Vestments. It took six whole chapters! Then, in 11 short verses (Exodus 31:1-11), the work is handed over to the experts (Bezalel, his assistant Oholiab, and “all the experts”).

So, metaphorically like the Israelites who had no home while the Lord’s meeting tent was constructed and adorned, St. Joseph Parish will step away from our faith home to begin worshiping together in the Wilson Center Auditorium. But while we are away, a beautiful transformation of our worship space will be happening. I can’t wait! Imagine the excitement of the Israelites—they would finally have a home in which God would be encountered!

What can we expect when the renovation is over? From The General Instructions of the Roman Missal (#292)

“The ornamentation of a church should contribute to its noble simplicity rather than to ostentation. Moreover, in the choice of elements, attention should be paid to authenticity and there should be the intention of fostering the instruction of the faithful and the dignity of the entire sacred place.”

Our U.S. Bishops give a similar sentiment in Built of Living Stones - Art, Architecture, and Worship (#46)

“The church building houses the community of the baptized as it gathers to celebrate the sacred liturgy. By its practical design and beauty, it fosters the full, dignified, and graceful celebration of these rites. The primary concern in the building or renovation of a space for worship must be its suitability for the celebration of the Eucharist and other liturgical rites of the Church.”

Some of what the St. Joseph renovation will accomplish:

What is worn will be replaced

What is already beautiful will be emphasized

And a few new elements will be added to foster our worship

Our renovated worship space will be a delight to wander through and rediscover!

What can you do? Keep praying! And watch the parish website and bulletin for updates on the progress!

In Appreciation of 10 years as St. Joseph's Pastor

In June 2012, St. Joseph Parish welcomed a new Pastor! Fr. Mike Williams has been our spiritual shepherd for the last 10 years! We thank him for caring and praying for us every day. We thank him for bringing us the sacraments. We thank him for his sacrifices for us. The best way to show our appreciation is to offer prayer that God may continue to bless him as he continues to work for our salvation.

Some ideas:

- Offer a spiritual bouquet of a rosary, chaplet of Divine Mercy, holy hour of Eucharistic adoration, or any other prayer you choose to offer. Let Fr. Mike know that you will be praying for his intentions.
- Take the time to write a note expressing your gratitude and appreciation. Help your children to also write a note.
- Send a gift card for pizza, subs, and other tasty treats.
- Make a delivery of cookies or a meal

Fr. Mike, may God bless you and give you grace and strength as you continue to work for Him and His people.
