WE ARE ALL EVANGELIZERS

(and whatever else is on Deacon Eric's mind)

Who are the Scapegoats in Our Lives?

The gospel of the day for today, Monday, January 30th, is Mark 5:1-20 which is the story of a man chained in a tomb and battling numerous demons. He broke his chains and roamed the countryside, often bruising himself with stones and calling out loudly on the countryside. Jesus ordered out the demons and directed them into a herd of swine. The herd of two thousand pigs ran into the sea and drowned, freeing the man who had been possessed.

The incident, we're told, took place in Gerasenes, a region east of the Sea of Galilee and inhabited by Gentiles. So, to the Jewish followers of Jesus, this was like winning a baseball doubleheader, (or for shoppers, a two-for-one special) -- the demons are expelled, freeing not only the terrorized man and those who lived near him, but drowning two thousand "ritually unclean" swine as well. Philosophers, however, have a different view of this story.

As most people know, I am not a philosopher, nor do I play one on TV, so I'm going to lean on the renowned Bishop Robert Barron to navigate our way here. Bishop Barron notes that this biblical story actually showcases "scapegoating violence," an area of expertise researched by philosopher Rene Girard. Bishop Barron summarizes Girard's work in this area as such:

Scapegoats perform an important function in the maintenance of human societies, effectively channeling away the competition and violence that would, otherwise, tear a community apart.

The demoniac was chained so that the local community could keep an eye on him. The bishop speculates that this quite probably also meant the possessed man was teased and taunted and looked down upon the way some might do nowadays at a bargain-basement carnival freak show. The tormented man called himself Legion which translates to

"many." Bishop Barron asks: "Could the 'many' in question be the citizens of the town who have projected their hateful shadows onto him?"

In freeing the man from his demons, Jesus is trying to break the pattern of scapegoating, which is not limited to Jesus' time. It most certainly still exists today. We all know someone who always has excuses for poor decisions, always placing blame on someone else. Perhaps we too, sometimes make a spouse, a boss, a sibling or even society-at-large a scapegoat for a negative situation we find ourselves in. We may want to ask ourselves: "Who are the scapegoats in my life?"

Maybe, in Bishop Barron's words, "Instead of projecting (our) violence and negativity onto an innocent other, (we) should turn to the difficult but ultimately soul-enlarging task of self-criticism and conversion."

The CHOSEN

Whether you have been following "The Chosen" through its first seasons or not, I invite all to join us as we watch and discuss season three on Thursday evenings at 6:30 p.m. starting February 9th in the St. Joes Church basement.

See what the hubbub is all about. Give it two weeks and chances are you'll want to stay with us throughout Lent. You're planning to do something Scriptural for Lent anyhow, "Right?"

St. Monica Ladies Auxiliary

Attention all Ladies of the parish!

There will also be time during the evening for Faith sharing and conversation. Discussion of Jesus's difficult teachings will continue. As always, there will be snacks to share. Please come to join in this faith-filled evening. For more information call Mary Beth at (989) 227-0088.

Prayers from parishioners

Please pray for all the 9th grade Confirmation candidates and their families as they will be celebrating the Sacrament of Confirmation on March 26th. Pray for an increase in their desire to know and follow Jesus as a disciple.

Thank you!

Reconciliation

When was the last time you felt renewed by celebrating the Sacrament of Reconciliation? It is so easy to celebrate Reconciliation with Fr. Mike. St. Joe has scheduled times of Tuesday's at 6:30 p.m. and Saturday's at 4:00 p.m. If you can not make one of these times, call the parish office to schedule an appointment with Fr. Mike, it can be very confidential, no name is needed. Schedule a time, and meet Fr. Mike by the confessional.

Stewardship Parish*Reflection on Life in a Parish*

My parish is composed of people like me.

I help make it what it is.

It will be friendly, if I am.

It will be holy, if I am.

Its pews will be filled, if I help fill them.

It will do great work, if I work.

It will be prayer-ful

It will make generous gifts to many causes if I am a generous giver.

It will bring others into worship, if I invite and bring them.

It will be a parish of loyalty and love, of fearlessness and faith, of compassion, charity, and mercy, if I, who make it what it is, am filled with these same things.

Therefore, with the help of God, I now dedicate myself to the task of being all things that I want my parish to be.
