Eucharistic Adoration

"If we go out in the sun, we get a suntan...but when we get in front of Jesus in the Eucharist, we become saints."
Blessed Carlos Actis

Have you considered taking your children or teens to spend time in Adoration before the Blessed Sacrament? Young adults, is Eucharistic Adoration part of your salvation plan?

Blessed Carlos encourages us: "You, too, can be a saint. But you need to want it with your whole heart, and, if you do not yet desire it, ask the Lord for it with insistence."

Blessed Carlos died at age 15, on October 12, 2006.

Oars and More

This past Saturday began as it often does for me, grabbing a caffeinated beverage and heading to church for the weekly get-together of the Average Joes. Now, for those who are not familiar with this group, it is men primarily made-up of, but not limited to, St. Joe. The name reflects our parish's namesake. Saint Joseph was just an average carpenter and stonemason when he was tapped on the shoulder by God and chosen to be the foster father of Jesus. He is not quoted in the gospels but his actions show that he was not only above average, but extraordinary. The guys attending Joes' meetings are too humble to accept the label "extraordinary," but, in this reporter's eyes are clearly "well above average."

A great example, was the conversation we had on the last day of September. After an interesting discussion of the repair and re-painting of a member's third-generation wooden boat, a poignant epilogue was added. I never thought of the philosophical nature of boat oars, but the boat owner pointed out that the front half of the boat had been painted and sealed to withstand the battering to come in the uncharted waters of life. The oars, however, were not repainted as a constant reminder of the stormy seas the oars had survived in years past.

As often happens at Joes get-togethers, however, we drifted to another topic that stimulated great conversation among the 10-12 guys there -- greed, or more specifically the question of whether or not putting money in a 401-k for retirement is being greedy. Without going into the many details of discussion, it was noteworthy that someone stated: "Did anyone notice that the trigger question was about greed, but our discussion the last half-hour has been about charity?" It was true that after the question had been asked, most of the discussion drifted to stories of charity, usually with one Joe recalling the charity of another. It was a great example of meaningful dialogue among like-minded Christian men - something that is spiritually fulfilling. And it most certainly can't be found anywhere. I encourage men in our parish who have never attended a Joes gathering or who haven't attended in a long while to stop in on a Saturday morning for some "well above average" conversation.

The answer to the 401-k and greed conversation, of course, is that saving for retirement is not greedy unless it takes the form of hoarding like the gospel parable of the rich man who built two barns to fill with a life's supply of grain. The gospels are clear that it is the lack of sharing one's wealth that is sinful, not the act of being rich. As long as we share in retirement, whether it is time, talent or treasure, then we are not being greedy.

Many people look at professional athletes as greedy because of the obscene amount of money they make. Last year's baseball players' strike was billed in the press as the fight between millionaires and billionaires. But for those of us who can detach themselves from the money and look strictly at the children's game they play, can appreciate the human element. Thus, I joined with thousands of others who welled-up yesterday at the final moments of Detroit Tiger Miguel Cabrera's baseball career -- remembering his love for the game as he waved to fans, because it is the same game we loved as kids.

Husbands, dads, brothers, sons and grandsons.... All are invited to join us for the Average Joe's Men's Group. We meet each Saturday morning in the church basement from 8:30 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. to discuss issues affecting men in our society today. Gatherings include speakers and videos to provide a variety of perspectives on how men think about and then action challenges in everyday life. The informal meetings also provide an opportunity for men of the parish to learn from each other.

All faiths are welcome.

Everyone is welcome to join us!

If you were raised as a child in the parish:

- And are now over 18 years of age
- And you did not fill out a parish registration form
- You are NOT a registered parishioner!

Why is it important to be registered in the parish:

- We can reach you with important information about the parish and it's ministries
- We have a more accurate idea of the number of parishioners we have in the parish.
- It allows us to seek your input and feedback.
- It allows you to formally support the parish financially, since envelopes will be issued to you for your use.
- We can start a sacramental record for you.
- Finally, registering can also help you have a greater sense of belonging to and ownership of the parish.

Please note:

The envelopes you receive when registering will now play an important role in the reception of the sacraments. (i.e. Baptism, Eucharist, Confirmation and Marriage) in the parish. We're asking all parishioners to get into the habit of using your envelopes in the weekly collection. Even if you give online or don't have anything to put in the envelope, please submit an empty envelope. It will help us know how many registered parishioners attend a given Mass and it will also come in handing for determining if a person, presenting themselves for a sacrament, is attending Mass regularly as is required.

You can obtain a registration form from our website at www.stjoecatholic.com under forms or stop in the parish office.
