WE ARE ALL EVANGELIZERS

(and whatever else is on Deacon Eric's mind)

You Know It's Coming, But Still...

It's not a swarm of locusts and it's a not an alien invasion, but it is dark and sinister. It's something that we know is coming because we put it in place and it happens every year early in November. (No I'm not talking about elections, but that's a good guess.) I'm talking about the "fall back" time change. You're outside on a mostly sunny Sunday afternoon, tidying up the yard for winter when "BAM" it's dark out.

Your first reaction is "Wait a minute, it's not night, it's still afternoon. The second NFL game hasn't even reached halftime yet." You look at your phone or your watch and see it's not even 5:30 p.m. yet, and sigh. You knew it was coming but still...

I realize there's a fringe group of society known as "morning people" who are rejoicing because now the sun comes up an hour earlier. They say such things as "This wouldn't be happening if you afternoon and evening people hadn't stolen an hour from us last spring." Well, I have to concede that, this moving the clock back and forth is not God's doing, it is ours and we have to deal with it.

We could make a deep philosophical dive into man's constant desire to buy more time. If we can grab an hour here or there and stack them up, maybe we grab an extra day, then a week and a month and so on until we defeat time, forever cheating death. But that just can't happen. God's plan is for us to live a limited amount of time here on earth and then eternity with him in heaven. (A new 4-part series on Formed.org entitled "Eternal Rest" does a good job of looking at God's plan for us as individuals and as a society.)

In the end, there will be no deep philosophical dives here unless someone deep and philosophical starts writing this column. And, with the knowledge that afternoon darkness is going to continue to creep backwards up the clock for another six weeks, I do have the satisfaction of knowing that because we live in the far western section of our time zone we are among those who see the sun the longest. Just across Lake Michigan, people (including two of my children and families) live in the easternmost part of the Central Time Zone. The sunset there yesterday at 4:25 p.m. "YIKES!"

I'd like to take a minute here and encourage all parishioners to attend the Clinton Community Thanksgiving Celebration and Dinner on ("Surprise") Thanksgiving. It is a celebration of thanks for all the great gifts God has given us. It is a dinner not just for the disadvantaged but for all area residents and families. St. Joe's is one of a half-dozen or so churches from the area providing committee members, food items and workers. This is a true ecumenical event. In addition to the traditional Thanksgiving meal, we have a crafts area for the children, and, of course, we will have a big screen TV with the Detroit Lions game going so football fans can stay abreast of the score. Thanksgiving Worship Service begins at 11:00 and the dinner runs from noon until 3:00, all at St. Johns Lutheran Church.

And if you can help work, please volunteer at ccthanksgiving.org. We have numerous two-hour shifts available Monday through Thursday

Pictorial Church Directory Update

Submit a photo...

Did you miss out in on getting your family photo taken by Universal Church Directories (UCD)? There is still a bit of time to submit a family photo if you missed the photography at St. Joseph Church.

Due date to submit a photo is November 13

Cost: $25 and includes a hardbound directory

If you're interested in submitting a family photo, please contact the parish office for details.

Update and timeline:

Photography at St. Joe concluded near the end of September. Family photos continue to be mailed out to families as (UCD) completes this process.

The pictorial directory is in design phase, meaning selection and layout of ministry photos is in process. After the draft is submitted, proof will be sent to be approved. From there, final proof is sent out for printing.

We expect the directories to arrive at the church this spring, 2024.

We appreciate your patience in this process. We are all excited in anticipation of this new directory for our church family.

Thank you again,

Pictorial Church Directory Committee
