What a Catch!!!

This has been quite a week for football fans in Michigan. First, the University of Michigan secures the national championship in college football and then the Detroit Lions hosted a professional football playoff game for the first time in over 30 years -- and they actually won it and advanced to the next round. On top of that, their division nemesis, the Green Bay Packers upset the Dallas Cowboys, which gives the Lions a second home playoff game for the first time since the Super Bowl era began in 1967. So it looks like some Lions' fans going to today's (1/21) game may have raided the 401k to afford good seats for the game.

The Lions victory was secured with a completed pass with about two minutes to go and it was described as such by the Detroit News the morning after: It seemed like any other pitch and catch. And to some degree, it was, as Lions quarterback

Jared Goff said, "like every other rep we've had of that play a hundred, million times."

It may have seemed simple to quarterback Goff and receiver Amon-Ra St. Brown, but long-time Lions fans know there's very little that's simple in recent Lions' history. Many a simple pass has simply been dropped in key situations by Lions receivers. So much so, that I'm sure many Detroit fans thought "WHAT A CATCH!!" when St. Brown secured the ball and the victory.

And, now, in a classic case of burying the lead, did you happen to "catch" the story in today's gospel from Mark? Jesus saw a couple of fishing boats as he walked aimlessly (wink, wink) along the Sea of Galilee -- one vessel with fishermen about to cast their nets into the water and hopefully "catch" a large number of fish, while two young men in another boat who, with their father, were mending fishing nets. "Simple" men performing a couple "simple" acts of their trade, actions so routine that they may have thought they've done them "a hundred, million times."

As it turns out, of course, was that these fishermen were about to leave their "simple" lives. Instead of "catching" fish, they were to become "fishers of men." Nothing in their lives would be "simple" any more. We too must realize that when we make a commitment to God, that our lives change. On the one hand, we simplify our life because we change our focus from worldly goals to the Lord. On the other, we realize that it is difficult to turn away from secular gods such as power, money and pleasure. It's not easy to become "fishers of men", as apostles Simon Peter, Andrew, James and John found out as followers of Jesus.

Last week I suggested that we reflect on the "four o'clock" moments in our lives, when we became "fishers of men" as it were. Today, let's take that a step further and consider how successful we are as "fishers of men." Wherever success rate we've had, let's continue to drop our nets for the Lord, so that in the end Jesus can say of each of us: "WHAT A CATCH!!!"

RESPECT LIFE SUNDAY

January 21, 2024

Please take a few minutes today to offer prayers for the unborn as we remember them on Respect Life Sunday.

Mahatma Ghandi once said: "the true measure of any society can be found in how it treats its most vulnerable members," so let's follow his wisdom and pray that our society reverse the field and start protecting babies in the womb. Also, please pray for a conversion of the souls for all those involved in the abortion industry and all legal legislators that they may see the societal benefits of protecting life in the womb.
