WE ARE ALL EVANGELIZERS

(AND WHATEVER ELSE IS ON DEACON ERIC'S MIND)

It's All Greek to Me

There was a play and a movie that came out about 60 years ago entitled "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" based on a series of farces by a Roman playwright in the third century B.C. The basic premise of the story was the attempt of a Roman slave to win his freedom by helping his master woo the girl next door. The play is full of puns and otherwise bawdy humor, the slamming of doors and the physical comedy of comedians similar to that of John Belushi or Chris Farley.

Why do I mention this old farcical movie? Well it popped into my head because a "funny thing happened to me" on my way to a reflection about today's feast of Pentecost -- I ran into Julius Caesar, who coincidentally sent many people to the Roman Forum for punishment. He's got nothing to do with the movie, but in reading up a bit on him while researching the movie, I came to realize some similarities between his final days and those of Jesus.

I am not implying that Caesar and Jesus were alike -- Caesar was a brutal military leader and Jesus was all about peace, but in the end each was betrayed by a close friend. They were each killed because of some leaders' belief that they were getting too powerful and might try to make themselves kings. And the conspirators in each situation promoted the idea that they were protecting their nation in calling for Caesar's and Jesus' executions.

The end for Caesar was truly "the end." Jesus' death however, marked the beginning of a series of events that changed the course of history -- his death led to his Resurrection, then to his Ascension and ultimately to today's feast of Pentecost. Jesus was the Advocate while he walked amongst us, and today we celebrate the Advocate he promised us -- as the apostles were filled with the Holy Spirit.

So what does all this have to do with the title of today's reflection, "It's All Greek to Me?" Well it has to do with the first readings of the Pentecost Vigil Mass and the Pentecost Mass during the day and (here he comes again) Julius Caesar. At this weekend's Saturday Vigil, the first reading is the story of the Tower of Babel, whereby man's hubris led him to think he could build a tower to heaven. God stopped that plan, assigning the builders different languages, forcing them to scatter to different parts of the world.

Greek grew to be the language of the educated and that was the case in Jesus' time. But as people migrated into what we now know as Europe, Greek was no longer the language of intellectuals. So by the time William Shakespeare used the phrase in his play "Julius Caesar," "It's all Greek to me" was a common idiom indicating "I just don't understand what I am reading." Flash forward to Pentecost and the first reading for Masses during the day and we have the story of the Holy Spirit descending on the Apostles, allowing them to speak in different tongues and thus given the power to spread the Gospel to all nations. The Holy Spirit "un-Babel-ed" the world.

Perhaps the most controversial modern historical event involving the Catholic Church is Pius XII's alleged indifference to the suffering of the Jewish people during the Holocaust. Join us as we look at Pius' activity before being elected pope, his silence during the time in question, what went on behind the scenes but is rarely discussed, and more.

From Fr. Mike:

What to do with your old and unwanted Religious items

A sacramental is a sacred sign that bears resemblance to the sacraments. Sacramentals include religious articles such as scapulars, blessed holy cards, crucifixes, statues, Bibles, missals, Lectionaries, holy water and oils, liturgical vestments, and altar cloths. But what are you to do with them when they break, become tattered and worn out? You can't just discard them. They're almost like people, sacred. They need to be treated properly, even at the end.

The basic rule for the disposal of these items is to burn or to bury them. During the 1800s the Church issued several decisions concerning the this issue. Here are a few examples: A chalice which becomes "unserviceable" is not to be sold but must be used for some other sacred purpose or melted. Vestments, altar cloths, and linens must be destroyed. Polluted or excess holy water must be poured into the ground. Palms are to be burned, and the ashes then used for distribution on Ash Wednesday or returned to the ground. A broken rosary or religious statue normally would be buried. In all, the underlying idea is that when has been dedicated to God should be returned to God. Never should one just "throw out" what has been blessed and dedicated to God.

With the exception of rosaries which can be placed on the rosary rack, please do not bring your unwanted items to the parish nor leave them in the back of the church. I understand the idea of leaving those things for someone else to pick up and use. However, that is not happening, and items just continue to pile up. After a while this becomes a problem because it makes the church look unkept. If you don't have a fire pit to burn the items or have a yard in which to bury them, then ask a neighbor or relative if they can help you dispose of those items. This is precisely what we do with items that are left in the church.

Heavenly Father, Lord of the Harvest,

*Call forth vocations to the priesthood
from our Diocese and families.*

*Jesus, Eternal High Priest, give us men willing to sacrifice and serve.
Make their hearts after your own Sacred Heart.*

Holy Spirit, Everlasting Love between the Father and Son, strengthen, inspire, and set men on fire with divine charity.

Grant them the courage to say yes to their vocation.

*Holy Mary, Mother of God,
Mother of priests,
comfort and protect your sons
as they discern their call.
With Saint Joseph,
may they know your love and companionship
as they deepen their relationship with Jesus.*

Immaculate Heart of Mary, pray for us.

St. Anne, pray for us.

*St. John Vianney, patron saint of priests,
