WE ARE ALL EVANGELIZERS

(AND WHATEVER ELSE IS ON DEACON ERIC'S MIND)

Is Quality Time Possible Nowadays?

Can we find "quality time" in our lives, or are we too busy nowadays to create it? The concept of quality time came up at an Average Joes meeting recently spurred on by a recent reflection by noted Catholic author and speaker Matthew Kelly, who said:

"If you want twenty minutes of quality time with someone you love, schedule three or four hours with him or her one afternoon, and chances are, somewhere in the middle of that three or four hours you will have your twenty minutes of quality time."

In Kelly's opinion, "Relationships thrive under one condition: care-free timelessness." So if you want that 20 minutes of quality time in our busy world, we need to carve out a larger block of time within which there can be meaningful exchanges. The "quality time" is not scheduled, but the framework for it is.

Just a couple of weeks ago, my wife asked me on a Saturday what we were going to do Sunday afternoon since nothing was scheduled for the first time in a couple months. I said "Let's go to Lake Michigan, have a walk, a nice dinner and watch a sunset. We can easily be back in time Monday for your afternoon shift at St. Vinny's."

So we drove down to St. Joseph to avoid as much of the Canadian wildfire smoke as we could, and though not specifically planned, there were a handful of "quality time" segments. We walked and we reminisced, since we lived in St. Joseph for three years when we were first married.

We also quietly watched children on the beach carousel, watched boats come up the channel from Lake Michigan, listened to the community orchestra and dined at an outdoor restaurant overlooking the lake. Then we watched the sunset from the bluff across the street from our hotel. Some may say the whole 22-hour round trip was quality time, while others might identify one of the segments. The bottom line is that we experienced Kelly's "carefree timelessness."

In describing all this, it's important to note that it's not a plan that's limited to our human relationships. We should have this type of relationship with Jesus as well. A good way to do that is First Friday adoration. If we "carve out" an hour on every First Friday, we may find ourselves having a quality block of time (maybe 10 or 15 minutes) when we are listening intently to Our Lord. In doing so, we put aside the cares and worries of our lives and connect with Jesus -- heart to Sacred Heart.

(In the spirit of truth, about which I expounded here last week, a quick overnight trip in search of quality time, such as I outlined today, is not part of my normal persona. I am much more likely to respond to "What shall we do Sunday afternoon?" with "I'll finally get to watch a Tigers game from beginning to end" than to say "road trip." Now Sundays will never be the same -- just a month before football season starts. Uh, oh!)

Summer Faith Formation Series

Understanding The Inquisition

The word Inquisition conjures up the worst images popularly associated with historical Catholicism; however, most people are familiar with nothing beyond the stereotypes associated with it. Adults and teens are invited to join us as we examine this part of our "family history" as Catholics, coming to a better understanding of the origin, structure, aims, and procedures of this controversial and misunderstood part of Church history.

St. Monica Ladies Auxiliary Monthly Event August 11, 2025

6:30 p.m. at the Columbian Hall

St. Monica Ladies Auxiliary will hold its next monthly event on August 11th at the Columbian Hall. It's a novel event called a "Trade Market Exchange." In order to participate in the exchange, the doors will open at 6:00 p.m. for you to bring some type of product such as flowers, fresh garden vegetables, home baked goods or home canned goods such as jam. Once you have brought an item, you can then exchange your item for an item brought by another. There is no money involved. This will be a fun way to share in the bounty found in our gardens and kitchens. During the exchange, enjoy some snacks and fellowship. We're looking forward to seeing many new faces at this unique event.

Lansing and need the Anointing of the Sick?

When you or your loved one is ill, receiving the Sacrament of the Sick is important. When in a Lansing area hospital, please let your attending nurse know you would like the Anointing of the Sick. They will contact the chaplain who will, in turn, contact a local priest who is "on call" to come and give you the sacrament. This is the quickest way for you or your loved one to receive the sacrament, if they didn't already receive it before going into the hospital.
